

Florida League of Cities Insurance Summit May 17 - 19 in Fort Myers

Over the past six months, many factors and events have happened that will impact Florida and its insurance landscape.

The property insurance market in Florida has hardened and is currently experiencing its most challenging time in more than a decade with supply and demand. New legislation could also potentially present challenges, and health insurance trends continue to drive costs.

Learning about the latest trends and emerging issues is the best way to help your city, town or village make the best decisions for your unique community.

If you or your staff members previously attended the regional HR and Risk & Safety Seminars hosted by the Florida Municipal Insurance Trust (FMIT), the new FLC Insurance Summit is just what you're looking for!

Join us in Fort Myers on May 17-19 for the first annual Florida League of Cities Insurance Summit! This event will provide timely training and education to local government staff responsible for insurance, risk management and human resources.

Now is the best time to register! The discounted early registration rate of $300 expires on April 28.

The hotel is offering the reduced rate of $199/night for Summit participants, plus $15/night for self-parking.

Attending this program will also earn Professional Development Credits for staff who are certified by the Society for HR Management (SHRM)!
