

GASB Online Comment Response Form

The Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) is offering a new way for you to comment on its proposals. In connection with its Exposure Draft, Accounting Changes and Error Corrections, the GASB has made available an online form that you can use to provide feedback on that proposed Statement, in lieu of submitting a comment letter.

The GASB's intent to offer the public options for sharing their views with the Board. Questions are posed about major provisions of the proposed Statement, but you can comment on any provisions you choose and there are no limits on the input you can provide. Based on this first effort, the GASB will consider making this online response form an option for some or all future proposals.

You can reach the online response form by clicking here or by cutting and pasting the following address into your browser: <https://www.fafsurveys.org/se/4CA36E920D917F04>.

A three-part series of brief videos about key provisions of the Exposure Draft also is available by clicking here or entering the following in your browser: <https://www.gasb.org/accountingchanges>.
